The 28th Annual LFP National Conference, Robust and Receptive Ecumenism, convened at Hope College in Holland, Michigan, October 12-14, 2018. The Ninth Biennial Arlin G. Meyer Prize in Performing Arts for 2018

On October 12, 2018, at its twenty-eighth annual National Conference at Hope College in Holland, Michigan, the Lilly Fellows Program in Humanities and the Arts presented the 2018 Arlin G. Meyer Prize in Performing Arts to Professor Blis DeVault of Xavier University (Cincinnati) for her documentary film, A Slice of Pie: A Love Story.

A Slice of Pie: A Love Story is most deserving of this national recognition. The jurors admired the way Professor DeVault crafted together the storytelling and film work, while remaining grounded in a life-giving sense of place and deeply Christian themes of love and abundance. One juror wrote: “A Slice of Pie: A Love Story beautifully exemplifies Christian artistic vocation in the twenty-first century by exploring a young faithful couple who embody how Christ can dwell among us and minister to the poor and needy in a diverse and complex community. Professor DeVault’s documentary elegantly chronicles this farm-to-table, pay-what-you-can, restaurant in Norwood, Ohio, and teaches us how it is still possible to live faithfully, love unconditionally and give generously in a world that grows ever more challenging.”

The Lilly Fellows Program also honored three finalists for the award: Matt Farmer of Hope College in Holland, MI, for Dieser Ort (This Place); Sr. Judith Royer of Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles, CA, for Voices of Justice; and Sam Smartt of Calvin College in Grand Rapids, Michigan, for A Name That I Admire. The prize committee was chaired by Mitchell Thomas, Professor of Theater at Westmont College in Santa Barbara, CA, and winner of the 2008 Meyer Prize in Performing Arts. Thomas also presented the prize.

The Arlin G. Meyer Prize is awarded biennially to a faculty member from a college or university in the Lilly Network of Church-Related Colleges and Universities whose work exemplifies the practice of the Christian artistic or scholarly vocation in relation to any pertinent subject matter or literary and artistic style. The 2018 Prize has been awarded to the author of a creative work that emerges from her practice of the vocation of the Christian performing artist, in accord with the principles and ideals of the Lilly Fellows Program. In subsequent years, the Meyer Prize will honor those who practice in the fields of musical performance, non-fiction, visual art, and imaginative writing. The $3000 prize honors the late Arlin G. Meyer, Professor of English at Valparaiso University, who served as program director of the Lilly Fellows Program in Humanities and the Arts from its inception in 1991 until his retirement in 2002.

Registration Open: Regional Conference at Dordt College on “The Prodigal Love of God,” April 4-6, 2019

On April 4-6, 2019, Dordt College and the Andreas Center for Reformed Scholarship and Service, in partnership with the Lilly Fellows Program, will host a conference titled “The Prodigal Love of God: Reencountering Dordt at 400 and Beyond.” Confirmed speakers include Marilynne Robinson, Richard Mouw, James K.A. Smith, Jemar Tisby, Paul Lim, Tish Harrison Warren, and Suzanne McDonald.

This year and next marks the 400th anniversary of the Synod of Dort, the namesake of Dordt College. Many churches and communities have celebrated the quincentenary of the Reformation, but the Synod of Dort does not loom so large in the popular imagination. For some, even members of the Protestant tradition, Dort seems to leave us with a complicated historical legacy of arid doctrinalism.

However, the story of the Synod of Dort—its legacy and its place in the Christian tradition—is much broader and more generous than this. Dort should be remembered for its rigorous doctrinal disputes, but within those debates there are also profound theological truths that continue to inspire many ecumenical conversations across Christian traditions. In the Canons of Dort, we encounter the prodigal love of God, who offers the blessing of the gospel “to all persons promiscuously and without distinction.” This theological message is something that has shaped and reformed Protestant communities for four hundred years. Through invited plenaries and panel discussions, our conference will feature conversations about the historical legacy and the future of Protestantism as well as the opportunities facing the global church in the decades ahead.

Registration for the conference is now open; For Information, Click Here.
